

Brandeis Marin
Head of School
San Rafael, CA

Brandeis Marin seeks a dedicated, warm, and visionary school leader to serve as their next Head of School.

Brandeis Marin (Brandeis) is an independent, co-educational Jewish day school that serves K-8 students and their families in San Rafael, California. This community-oriented school reflects the diversity of the Marin Jewish population as well as the varied religious, cultural, and socio-economic tapestry of the Bay Area.

Brandeis' program consists of an innovative, project-based curriculum infused with spiritual exploration and discovery. Students examine creek beds, build 3D models, and ponder the ins and outs of invertebrates. They plunge into equations, deconstruct complex texts, play an array of instruments (even ukulele!), and give back through service learning all while immersed in Jewish history and values.

In 2015, after 30 years of being Brandeis Hillel Day School along with a sister school in San Francisco, the school separated to become Brandeis Marin, the first and only independent Jewish day school in Marin County. In the past decade, Brandeis has proved itself as a stand-alone and stand-out school with stellar academics, steeped in what matters and focused on building learners who will be citizens of our community and our world.

The next leader at Brandeis will need to shepherd the school from the 'best kept secret in Marin' to a well-known and highly sought after K-8 Jewish day school. Marketing, admissions, and fundraising are all opportunities for the next leader to have a big impact. Of course, this is a job bigger than one person and there is an eager senior leadership team ready to partner with the new Head of School to fulfill these goals. Financially healthy, committed families, experienced and dedicated faculty, and a motivated and supportive board all await the new Head of School.
