

Regional Director, Florida

Friends of Irgun Nechei Zahal

Florida (Miami, Palm Beach, or Boca Raton preferred)

The Organization

Friends of Irgun Nechei Zahal (“The Irgun”), is the U.S. fundraising arm supporting Irgun Nechei Zahal in Israel (loosely translated to the organization for the wounded warriors of the IDF). The Irgun is the official, government backed organization in Israel responsible for the long-term support of all IDF wounded warriors. While there are many splinter organizations supporting veterans of specific units, the Irgun is the one and only organization operating at scale, caring for all wounded warriors.

Prior to October 7th the Irgun cared for 52,000 wounded warriors from all prior wars and acts of terror. Since October 7th as many as 19,000 wounded warriors have been added, and this number is expected to grow significantly, in particular with PTSD cases. The Irgun is thus facing unprecedented burden, and the nature of the support required, and age of those needing care has changed dramatically.

The most notable manner by which the Irgun supports its members is through rehabilitation, support, and empowerment centers known as Beit Halochem (in Hebrew Home of the Warrior)

Each of the four existing Beit Halochem (Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, Haifa, and Beer Sheva) provides physical and psychological therapy, vocational training, and social reintegration programs. These centers serve as lifelines for wounded warriors, helping them regain independence and lead fulfilling lives. To meet the growing demand for services, Beit Halochem is currently building a fifth rehabilitation center, further expanding its capacity to provide critical support for Israel’s wounded veterans.

The Irgun is now embarking on a major transformation under the leadership of Board Chairman Sam Zussman and newly hired CEO Iris Reff Ronen. Together, they bring a bold vision to modernize the organization, strengthen its U.S. presence, and significantly expand its fundraising capacity. Their mandate is to reshape The Irgun’s infrastructure so it can better sustain and scale its work in Israel—ensuring that the more than 52,000 existing members, as well as the estimated 20,000 additional wounded warriors post-October 7th, receive the long-term care and empowerment they need.

The Position

The Regional Director, Florida is a new and pivotal role for Friends of Irgun Nechei Zahal (“The Irgun”). Joining at a time of significant growth and opportunity, the Regional Director will focus on cultivating and stewarding donors and building visibility for The Irgun across Florida.

The ideal candidate will be a self-starter with an entrepreneurial spirit—capable of building a regional presence and cultivating long-term relationships with donors and partners. The Regional Director will design and execute cultivation and solicitation strategies for a portfolio of prospects, with the goal of securing major gifts and broadening The Irgun’s base of support. Over time, the Regional Director will have the opportunity to recruit and lead a small team, shaping the long-term growth of The Irgun’s U.S. operations.

Success in this role will require strategic thinking, excellent organizational and communication skills, and the ability to forge strong, trusted relationships with staff, donors, and volunteer leaders. The Regional Director will report directly to the CEO and collaborate closely with colleagues and lay leaders across the country.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Forge new relationships and steward current donors to increase financial support and raise The Irgun’s visibility in Florida.
- Identify, cultivate, solicit, and steward major donors and foundation partners, with a focus on securing gifts in the five- and six-figure range and up.
- Implement strategies for the region’s fundraising efforts including parlor meetings, speaker series, events, and other donor engagement opportunities, in coordination with national leadership.
- Cultivate and nurture local Irgun board relationships, including the development of a regional advisory committee.
- Serve as a visible leader of The Irgun in Florida and build a sense of community among lay leadership and donors.
- Work closely with the CEO to align regional activities with The Irgun’s fundraising priorities.

QUALIFICATIONS

The ideal candidate is a passionate and entrepreneurial fundraising professional, with the ability to inspire donors and leaders across Florida to invest in The Irgun's vital mission.

- Passion for The Irgun's mission and for the State of Israel.
- Strong track record of success in major gifts fundraising, including five- and six-figure solicitations.
- Excellent interpersonal, communication, and public speaking skills.
- Experience building new markets, donor networks, or regional fundraising operations preferred.
- Self-motivated, organized, and detail-oriented with the capacity to independently set goals, manage priorities, and use time and resources effectively.
- Fluent in the use of donor management database systems to maximize fundraising results.
- Familiarity with the Jewish communal and Israel-focused philanthropic landscape in Florida.
- Entrepreneurial mindset, with the flexibility and creativity to build a fundraising program from the ground up.
- Team oriented and flexible with the ability to work evenings and weekends (as needed).
- Willingness to travel regionally and to Israel as needed.

COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS

The base salary for this role is between $150,000 - $175,000 depending upon experience. Benefits include, health insurance, 403b matching plan, paid time off, and paid holidays (Jewish and secular).
